KATHREINKOGEL

SCHIEFLING AM WÖRTHERSEE

THE HOUSE OF ARCHAEOLOGY

With a height of 772 m Mt. Kathrein Kogel is not only a prominent feature in the landscape of the community but also its most interesting cultural site. From the parking lot you take the hiking trail to get to the top. Walking along the trail you will learn a lot about the history of the mountain. In the museum all the archaeological finds from the 1980s are set on display. They date back to the Neolithic as well as Bronze Age and the late antiquity.

On top of the mountain there are the remains of a 10,000 m² large fortification with an early Christian church from the 4th century. You can still admire the elevated presbytery, the floor pavement and the two cisterns to the south-west that were used to catch and store rainwater.

ATTENTION:

In case of rainy weather the museum is closed!

Robert-Musil-Literature-Museum

FREE entry

The Robert-Musil-Literature-Museum is located in the same house where Robert Musil (1880 – 1942), the Austrian author of world renowned books and modern classics, was born in Klagenfurt. The house, which was built in 1867, belongs to the city of Klagenfurt and was adapted in 1996 and 1997 to encompass a modern centre for literature, with new rooms for the museum and for the University of Klagenfurt Robert Musil Institute for Literature Research. Since 1994, the literature museum has been run by the cultural department of the city of Klagenfurt and now shows permanent exhibitions on Robert Musil, Christine Lavant and Ingeborg Bachmann. The content-related concept for the exhibitions came from Heimo Strempl, the design for the exhibitions came from architect Franz Freytag (Klagenfurt). From Bodental via the Stinzesteig to the Kosiak

© Franz Gerdl

This challenging hike begins in the idyllically situated Bodental valley. From Bodenbauer, the trail leads steadily uphill via the 'Märchenwiese' to the picturesque Ogrisalm. Things get exciting on the Stinzesteig, which is secured by ropes and requires surefootedness and a head for heights. The trail continues steeply uphill via the eastern shoulder and after laborious metres of climbing, the summit cross of the Kosiak finally appears. We are rewarded with a magnificent panoramic view. The trail descends steeply in numerous hairpin bends along the south-western ridge to the Klagenfurter Hütte. After a sufficient rest, we hike back down on the same route as ascent towards Bodental to the starting point. The difference in altitude is approx. 1,100 m, the total walking time approx. 6 hours. An excellent level of fitness, surefootedness and a head for heights are absolutely essential!

Physics you can touch – EXPI, the hands-on exhibition

Trying it out is encouraged.

Interesting, surprising but also instructive phenomena from different areas of physics can be tried out independently at 50 interactive exhibits. Touch a 2-metre-high whirlwind that is created before your eyes at the touch of a button, let lightning jump between two spheres, reconstruct the original colour image from black-and-white photos using three colour transparencies, just like J.C. Maxwell did in his day, or vividly explore the strange effects of the theory of relativity on screens, exhibits and display boards. Even if you want to see cosmic radiation and the background radioactivity that is present everywhere with your own eyes, EXPI is the right place for you. You have the opportunity to learn about the laws of nature in a completely different way trying them out. The exhibition is weatherproof!

Tips for green tours

Dear guest,

Outdoor exercise is more in demand than ever! But the whole thing is only fun in a clean and intact environment. How good that each of us can make a contribution to our nature also remaining so clean and intact.

LET'S GO!

If possible without a car!

When travelling to the start of your hike, avoid using the car as much as possible. Use the bike, bus and train or, our top tip, "hiking by boat"!

Thank you very much!

TAKE YOUR RUBBISH BACK HOME WITH YOU

Pack a bin bag in every backpack!

A snack outdoors is simply part of the experience. Important: Be sure to take any packaging and rubbish back home with you. Do not dispose of tissues and cigarette butts in nature.

RESPECT NATURE

We are guests in nature!

When hiking and cycling, please keep to the paths, and your dogs on a leash. Treat grazing and wild animals with respect and keep your distance, do not feed them. Only pick plants, mushrooms and berries to the extent permitted.

CARINTHIAN DRINKING WATER

Free of charge and yet priceless!

The finest and cleanest drinking water flows from our taps. Natural, healthy and crystal clear. Fill up your drinking bottle with tap water – this avoids many a disposable bottle!
